

Which Check Would You Rather Write...

In the event of a federally-declared disaster, without flood insurance you may receive a loan that requires repayment, plus interest.

For about $1,500 a year – roughly $125 each month, or less than $32 a week – you can purchase protection against flood waters that could drown your checkbook and sink your business.

Almost 40% of small businesses never reopen following a disaster. Don't be one of them.

Call your agent today for a free, no-obligation flood insurance quote.
